Dear Mr. Morisy:

This responds to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request of 9 April 2013 that was received by the FOIA office on 10 April 2013 for records on "A copy of the book, 'Untangling the Web: A Guide to Internet Research'" published by the Center for Digital Content of the National Security Agency in 2007. Your request has been assigned Case Number 70381.

For purposes of this request and based on the information you provided in your letter, you are considered an "all other" requester. As such, you are allowed 2 hours of search and the duplication of 100 pages at no cost. There are no search fees associated with this request since the information was readily available. In order to save you duplication fees and make the document available to you electronically, we have posted the document to the nsa.gov website so that you can download it there. You can find the document at http://www.nsa.gov/public_info/declass/index.shtml. Because there are no assessable fees, we have not addressed your request for a fee waiver.

The names of NSA/CSS employees have been deleted from the document. This information is exempt from disclosure pursuant to the third exemption of the FOIA, which provides for the withholding of information specifically protected from disclosure by statute. The specific statute applicable in this case is Section 6, Public Law 86-36 (50 U.S. Code 402 note).

The Initial Denial Authority for NSA information is the Deputy Associate Director for Policy and Records, D. M. Janosek. Any person notified of an adverse determination may file an appeal to the NSA/CSS Freedom of Information Act Appeal Authority. The appeal must be postmarked no later than 60 calendar days after the date of the initial denial letter. The appeal shall be in writing addressed to the NSA/CSS FOIA Appeal Authority (DJ4), National Security Agency, 9800

Savage Road STE 6248, Fort George G. Meade, MD 20755-6248. The appeal shall reference the adverse determination and shall contain, in sufficient detail and particularity, the grounds upon which the requester believes that the determination is unwarranted. The NSA/CSS FOIA Appeal Authority will endeavor to respond to the appeal within 20 working days after receipt, absent any unusual circumstances.

Sincerely,
